SENATE.

CHANDLER presented the petition of certain citizens of Michigan against the removal of the restrictions upon the trade with Canada. Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. FESSENDEN [illegible] the bill to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to [illegible] national currency.

Mr. SUMNER offered as an amendment [illegible] vian that no person shall be appointed an assistant assessor of internal revenue before action be taken the case required by act of Congress.

Mr. FESSENDEN objected to the amendment. There was a law in the statute book requiring the oath to be taken, and the proviso offered by Mr. Sumner was unnecessary.

Mr. SUMNER said that the Secretary of the Treasury had the power to remove any officer for the appointment of such as office in the South without any reason being assigned. He thought the oath was requisite whether his amendment and the bill was passed.

Mr. WILSON offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling for information in regard to the number of persons employed in the department of the Quartermaster's department, and the amount of [illegible] what [illegible] papers they were printed, by what [illegible] and by what authority of law.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill to amend the Freedmen's Bureau bill, also a bill to protect the citizens of the United States in their civil rights, and gave notice that to-morrow he should ask that they be printed.

After bills reported by Mr. Trumbull, Mr. McDOUGALL, and Mr. Wilson, the Senate, at three months extra pay of officers of volunteers when mustered out of service; [illegible] of the act of March 3d, 1865, making appropriations for the support of the army for the current year, and for other purposes, so as to authorize the [illegible] pay proper to all officers of volunteers [illegible] who have been or may be mustered out of the service of the United States since March 3d, 1865, who have remained on duty from the date of their muster out until the expiration of the term of their service below no longer required; [illegible] to be printed.

Mr. SHERMAN offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the President to communicate to the Senate any information in his possession relative to the [illegible] of Mexico in 1861, for the purpose of [illegible] United States troops [illegible] Guaymas to Arizona through Mexican territory.

The resolution was then stated that the morning hour having expired, the business before the Senate was the resolution offered by Mr. Hicks yesterday for the appointment of Fredrick Douglass Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau.

Mr. HICKS said he had no reluctance in addressing the Senate on this subject, because of his personal relations with the gentleman whose name was [illegible] resolution. He was about to state were the reasons which induced him from the beginning on the subject in question.

At the conclusion of Mr. Johnson's remarks Mr. HICKS addressed the Senate on moving the resolution adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.

In the House to-day, the SPEAKER laid before the House a communication from the Secretary of War, transmitting [illegible] other things, that Commissioners [illegible] Maryland [illegible] into the military [illegible] all the money available was required [illegible] the Freedmen's Bureau [illegible] all the money available was required [illegible] the Freedmen's Bureau [illegible] referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. STEVENS, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the former appropriation bill, which was ordered to be printed and recommitted.

The House then resumed the consideration of the bill relating to suffrage in the negroes in the District of Columbia.

Mr. KELLEY said before the House the evidence of James Parvow and John H. Connelly as members of the House from the State of South Carolina, which were referred to the Joint Committee on Reconstruction.

A bill was reported from the Committee on Invalid Pensions granting a pension to the widow of a Captain who died in the military service—the pension to commence from the passage of the act. The bill was then passed, after an ineffectual effort to amend so as to make it commence from the 1st of January, 1865.

Mr. BRANDEGEE offered a resolution directing the Secretary of War to report to the House the information which the [illegible] of the House, the aggregate amount of money [illegible] appropriated from the [illegible] for the establishment of the Philadelphia navy yard, the present [illegible] thereof, the [illegible] of the [illegible] machinery and [illegible] and all other items which pertain to its [illegible].

Mr. ELDRIDGE offered a resolution, which was [illegible] to [illegible] to furnish an estimate of the value of [illegible].

Mr. STEVENS wished to make an amendment, that the Secretary should report the number of [illegible] both their and their character.

Mr. BRANDEGEE said it was not to be expected that the Secretary of the Navy should furnish information which the opposition desired.

The resolution was then adopted.

Mr. SMITH offered a resolution to allow the Committee on Military Affairs to sit during the recess and [illegible] from the recommendation of the President for a peace militia system, which was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. ROGERS [illegible] that the Court did decide that Scott did not come within the jurisdiction of the Court, and was not a citizen of the United States, he would not plant himself in a position to petition in the Federal Court. As to confirming [illegible] he [illegible] to [illegible] to [illegible] to equality, and [illegible] down side by side with the white man. He [illegible] was hostile [illegible] proposed by the Republican party.

Mr. ROGERS, in the course of his remarks, was interrupted by a question from a member of the Republican side, in relation to enlisting in the volunteer service of the country, and [illegible] his views against extending the privilege to negroes. He [illegible] was [illegible] to [illegible] whose [illegible] they were incompetent for its [illegible].

Mr. FARNSWORTH, of Ill., said if as recollected, the gentleman from New Jersey did all he could to embarrass the army of the United States, and to prevent the Government from sending [illegible] and [illegible] to the field. It was to the advantage that he [illegible] and among other things, the gentleman voted against the bounties of $100 to the soldiers. Now the gentleman [illegible] of the gentleman opposing the negro, who were about [illegible] their own soldiers, who had been [illegible] and [illegible] to the field. [illegible] then there should be the right of voting to prevent the federal [illegible] and [illegible] the right, the enfranchisement and the elevation of the negro. [illegible] the gentleman does the right to vote, even so to who should [illegible] the [illegible] of the country. He [illegible] the kindness what he called the injustice of giving the negro the right to vote, and [illegible] and [illegible] however, objected to striking the black man from the [illegible]. The objection came from [illegible] of the [illegible]. The objection came from [illegible] of the [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] should be the right of voting to prevent the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Scrapbook of the Kitchen No. 2.

CHANTILLY, Ill., Oct. 6.

DEAR SIR:

Economy is importance is a good story in A

Kitchen is the prime property to the water pure soft or spring sufficiently soft to use in the cooking rain or cistern. Water is an article of luxury in many towns, in the city, and is a severe commodity, commanding a premium to the good wife, who has a pride in white linen and well washed dishes and

Talking the whole State of Illinois, we are safe in saying that not one family in twenty-five have a good cistern, and the other twenty-four depends upon tubs, barrels, and in fact any sort of a receptacle that they can catch rain in, and as rain water is not as pure as that in a large cistern where all the coal dust and other filth from the roofs is allowed time to settle, it is not always at hand when it is most wanted. The poetical out of tune and harmonious, a summer shower when the first most pleasant pleasures of the season, especially when the wind blows down the chimney, and the rain comes in sheets, and we are compelled to see the ashes taken up and carried out on cold coal pail into the air to avoid the ashes from the

We have often wondered why farmers' wives did not rebel and take the matter of cistern into their own hands, or at least persuade their husbands to build one. We found out the reason for a divorce is about to put down in the list of exciting incidents.

It is where you will thoroughly consideration, and you will find large, well-built farm cisterns described in the columns of the city, and placed Mr. Stantz in possession of the information. The latter at once decided to come to Chicago to see the lawyer, which on Thursday last. By the aid of the police of the Hamilton street station and Burghardt, in charge of machinery, Burghardt having left a wife and family in Philadelphia. Stantz having ascertained where his wife and children could be found, determined upon seeing them. The lawyer was anything but of an agreeable character to him. His wife might have told him that neither she nor the children loved, had any kindly feelings toward him, that she never would live with him again, and flatly refused to return with him to Philadelphia, but the lawyer promised her and children forgiveness.

Seeing that his wife was so determined in the stand which she had taken, he concluded that he had better leave her and come home, which he did on Friday evening last. Burghardt was arrested in the Police Court on Saturday on the charge of adultery, but no one appearing against him, he was discharged, and is now with his wife and children in Stantz. The latter, before leaving, expressed himself as highly pleased with the services rendered him by the police and lawyer, and will return to Philadelphia a wiser and happier man.

UNITED STATES COURTS.—Before Hon. Thomas Drummond, Judge.—No business of any importance was transacted before this Court yesterday.

SUPERIOR COURT.—Before Hon. John M. Wilson, Chief Justice, and Hons. Joseph E. Gary and John A. Jameson, Associate Justices.

MONEY ON DEPOSIT.—This was an action of assumpsit instituted by Patrick Murray against Thomas Hanlon to recover possession of certain property in this city, described as lots (1) and four (4) of block one (1), in McCord's addition to Chicago, and lot (1) and the east 3 feet and 10 inches of lot (2), in the subdivision of the northeast fractional quarter of section (36), north range (14), east of the third principal meridian.

DIVORCE.—Dunsmore vs. Hannah Dunsmore. This was an action in Chancery instituted by Paul Dunsmore against his wife, Hannah Dunsmore, to obtain a decree of divorce. The complainant married Miss Hannah Hamilton in this city in December, 1864, and they lived together in that relation until January, 1869, when, without any cause or provocation, as Mr. Dunsmore alleges, his wife left his bed and board, and has ever since refused to live with him. They were married until December, when the husband returned from Chicago, and found his wife had left for parts unknown. Thought he could find her, he at once made diligent search for her, but was unable to hear any tidings of her, although he went to Joliet for that purpose. Not succeeding in finding her, he returned to this city, and on the next morning (a Sunday) found his wife and children at the residence of Mr. Stantz, where she was living as a married man and wife. Mr. Dunsmore, on finding his wife there, demanded that she should return to her home, but she refused to do so, stating that she proposed to remain where she was. Mr. Dunsmore then left the house, and has not since seen his wife. He alleges that she has been guilty of adultery with Mr. Stantz, and asks a decree of divorce. Mr. Dunsmore is a resident of Philadelphia, Pa., and is employed in the Pullman Palace Car Company's shops in this city. Mrs. Dunsmore is a native of Ireland, and is a handsome woman. Mr. Stantz is a married man, and has a wife and children living in Philadelphia. Mr. Dunsmore was represented by Messrs. Hoyne & Miller, and Mr. Stantz by Messrs. Lyon & Hitchcock. The case was heard by Judge Gary, and a decree granted as prayed for.

Hoyne & Miller, and Mr. Stantz by Messrs. Lyon & Hitchcock. The case was heard by Judge Gary, and a decree granted as prayed for.

Kreitzberg vs. Kreitzberg. This was a bill for divorce, filed by Mrs. Kreitzberg against her husband, Mr. Kreitzberg, on the ground of cruelty. The parties were married in Germany, and came to this country about twenty years ago.

Wilhelm Wilhelm vs. George H. Barton. In this case the defendant in error moved to dismiss the writ of error, on the ground of irregularity in the service of process upon a peremptory non-appearance.

INSURANCE.—Schmidlapp et al. vs. Peoria Marine and Fire Insurance Company. This was a suit instituted some time ago by August Schmidlapp and Frederick Schmidlapp, composing the firm of Schmidlapp & Son, of Cincinnati, to recover upon a lost policy or insurance, for $5,000, on a schooner owned in this city by the North Branch of the Chicago River Improvement Company. The policy which was effected in March, 1871, was destroyed during the fire, and the property of the building by fire in October, 1871. Defendant claimed that the property was not burned, and that the policy was forged. The case was carried by the appeal to the Supreme Court, and the policy was not turned up as alleged, and the case was remanded for a new trial.

Hall vs. Hall. This was a suit instituted by Robert Lowden Hall, son of our lamented deceased President, against his mother, Mrs. Julia Hall, and others, to obtain a decree of specific performance on the part of the defendants of a contract entered into by their father and husband, whereby he agreed to convey to the plaintiff certain property, and which he failed to do before his death. The case was heard by Judge Moran, and a decree granted as prayed for

THE CITY.

JOURNALISM.—A lecture and lesson on "Journalism as it is" will be given before the Sunday School Board of Methodists, at the Church of Clark Street and Wellington Place, (Friday) afternoon at 3 o'clock. Those desirous are free to all.

JAMES R. MORRISON.—We are pleased to learn that we are to have an opportunity of hearing this gentleman, who has been engaged for the Academy of Music. His entertainments at the Academy of Music in this city have been of the highest order, and we feel obliged to give a hearty welcome and pleasant visit within the coming week or two in Chicago and vicinity.

* ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO SWINDLE.—Steven E. Gibbs, a commission merchant of this city, was yesterday morning, afternoon, afternoon before Justice DeWolf, brought under arrest, the charging being of an attempt to swindle Mr. Thomas Hayes, of Hayes & Co., Carlisle, Ill. Mr. Hayes came to this city, and was required to furnish bail in the sum of $5,000 for appearance, which was done. It was also required to furnish, a statement of the case, a brief upon what the charge is to be able to prove, which will be all points, and, therefore, unjust to the defendant.

NEW GOVERNOR HOUSE.—We call attention to the card, to another column, of Messrs. George B. Fennar (late of the firm of Wright & Sumner) and George J. Mixer, who have commenced business at No. 100 South Water street, in the old Board of Trade building, under the firm name of Fennar & Mixer, for the transaction of a general commission, forwarding and grain business. Both gentlemen are well known, and gained a large circle of acquaintance during their residence in this city. We bespeak for them a liberal share of patronage, and feel confident that in need of the services offered by them, as gentlemen who may be relied on.

MEETING OF LUMBER DEALERS.—The adjourned meeting of lumber dealers was held last evening at Hoyt's Merchants' Exchange.

The meeting was called to order by A. C. Calkins, Esq.

On motion, George C. Morton, Esq., was elected Chairman, and A. S. Rice, Esq., Secretary.

The report of the committee appointed at the meeting held on Wednesday evening, August 14, 1867, to draft resolutions in regard to Freight on Lumber, and to call a meeting of lumber dealers to take the same into consideration, was then read by the Secretary, and the duties of the meeting explained by the Chairman.

On motion of A. C. Calkins, Esq., the report was received, and the duties of the meeting referred to the Board of Directors.

On motion of A. C. Calkins, Esq., the meeting adjourned, sine die.

CHICAGO ILLUSTRATED.—The first number of a new publication of our most public buildings, business and thoroughfares, with portraits of prominent citizens, is now before the public. Under the auspices of the Chicago Press Club, Messrs. Crosby & Nichols, Publishers, Boston, Mass., and Messrs. Cameron, Amberg & Co., Franklin street, Chicago, have issued the first number of a publication which will be a credit to the city, and to the enterprising publishers. The work is to be issued monthly, and will contain, when complete, about 100 pages of letter-press, and as many illustrations. The first number is a specimen of typographical beauty, and the illustrations are executed in the highest style of the art. The publishers have spared no pains or expense to make the work what it should be, and we feel confident that they will be successful in their undertaking. The publication office is at No. 118 Franklin street, where subscriptions will be received. The price of the work is $5 per annum, or 50 cents per number.

THE AMERICAN CLOCK COMPANY.—The American Clock Company, sole agents for the E. N. Welch Manufacturing Co., New Haven Clock Co., and Welch, Spring & Co., Bristol, Conn., have opened their office at No. 118 Lake street, above Quincy hall, and make their readers the most singular announcements to call to by its customers in supplying all kinds of clocks, at the lowest rates. They have a large stock on hand, and are prepared to fill orders at short notice. The low of Christ is to be established. Wherever sinners are told of His matchless treasure of love to sinners, there is awakened a spirit of shame, and they feel disposed to be a better man or woman, else it fast by the barriers of conscience. Mr. Wm. Wright, late of the firm of Wright & Sumner, has been appointed manager of the new concern, and will be pleased to meet his many friends, and gather a large circle of acquaintance. We commend them to the favorable notice of parties in need of the services offered by them, as gentlemen who may be relied on.

SUICIDE.

A Young Woman Seduced and Abandoned—She Takes Poison.

Thursday morning, another victim to man's perfidy, and her death in this city by her own hand. The story is not a new one. It has been told in all the varied phases of thrilling details, or as frequently as to-day, the most religious speech to the world's history. The love of Christ is to be established. Wherever sinners are told of His matchless treasure of love to sinners, there is awakened a spirit of shame, and they feel disposed to be a better man or woman, else it fast by the barriers of conscience. WASHINGTONIAN HOME.

Annual Election—Reports of Progress and Election of Officers.

The annual election of the members of the Washingtonian Home Association, was held pursuant to adjournment in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Those desirous are free to all.

The minutes of the preceding regular meeting were read and approved.

Mr. H. C. Hazen read the report of Mr. R. L. Wilson, the Treasurer of the Association, for the year ending Dec. 31, 1867, which, on motion of Mr. Hazen, was received and ordered to be published.

It was announced that Mr. Lombard had donated a check for the sum of $100 to the Association, and a vote of thanks was tendered to him.

Mr. P. Shadewing read the following:

The number of arrest at the Police Court yesterday was unusually large, and the cells were filled with a class of their customers.

Thomas J. Powers, of Powers' Opera House, was arrested on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Mr. J. Cowen Phelps, but was released on bail in the sum of $500, to appear at the Police Court this morning.

Thomas Hayes, of London, was arrested here on a charge of swindling, preferred by Steven E. Gibbs, of this city. The parties had a hearing before Justice DeWolf, and Hayes was required to give bail in the sum of $5,000 to appear at the Criminal Court. The property in question consists of a lot of lumber in the city of Carlisle, Ill., which Gibbs says he purchased of Hayes, and paid for, but which Hayes says he was to be able to prove, would be all paid for, and, therefore, unjust to the defendant.
